Remarks from the Deputy Vice-Chancellor

Dr Buszard welcomed the Okanagan's new Provost, Dr Ananya Mukherjee-Reed, who comes to the Okanagan from York University where she was a dean and head of the Department of Political Science.

The Principal noted that The Barber school is undertaking a review of its governance structure, and they should be coming to Senate with their thoughts on the organization of their faculty shortly.

Dr Cioe asked how the homecoming event went.

Dr Buszard replied that 1200-1800 people attended campus over the two days, and individual faculties also had their own events. This was the first for the Okanagan campus so we hope this starts a tradition. She thanked all of the volunteers who took part in those activities, as well as the community groups who sponsored events to help defray the costs.

Dr Cioe asked how the Blue and Gold Campaign was going.

Dr Buszard said that we are only in the second quarter, but we have been very successful for this campus. The University has offered $5M for matching funding, and 25% of that has been awarded to the Okanagan which is proportionately above our size.

Senator Cioe asked about the revisions to the smoking policy with regards to marijuana; in particular, do we allow the growing of any plants.

The Acting Secretary noted that it was still prohibited by Section 3.10 of the Residence contract.

Rationale (for four revised awards above):

For 20 years, Karen McKellin has been an advocate for the interests and needs of international students, helping them find success in their academic careers at UBC. Karen's foresight in recognizing developing trends in international recruitment has helped the International Student Initiative to reach ever-increasing markers of success. One area where she has made a big impact and continues to do so is international undergraduate student awards. She designed the original International Leader of Tomorrow award and it has gone on to bring many wonderful students to UBC who have contributed much to our learning environments. Undergraduate international student enrolment was almost non-existent in 1997 when she began her work, with only 450 students; enrollment has since grown to almost 10,000 international undergraduate degree students in 2016. Karen's focus on international students has made UBC a better university. She has positioned UBC as an academic leader internationally, through the many professional relationships she and her team have developed.

In recognition of the significant contributions Karen McKellin has made to UBC, we propose to rename the International Leader of Tomorrow Awards in her honour.
