Remarks from the Chair

Dr Ono noted that as of yesterday, 82 percent of students, faculty and staff had completed the online, confidential declaration of vaccination status, with 98 percent disclosing that they are already fully vaccinated. The President thanked every member of the UBC community for their commitment to a healthy and safe campus, as well as those people and groups who have been engaged on this matter.

Dr Ono set out his priorities and goals for the 2021-22 year. These were in the following categories: equity, diversity and inclusion; indigenous engagement and reconciliation; climate change; COVID-19 response; operational efficiency and the President's Academic Excellence Initiative.

In the area of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion:

- Work with the UBC community to complete the Taskforce Report of Anti-Racism and Inclusive Excellence;
- Identify priorities for implementation from the Taskforce Report;

- Support the implementation of top annual priorities from the Inclusion Action Plan;
- Release the Report from the National Forum on Anti-Asian Racism; and
- Ensure that the “Beyond Tomorrow Scholars Program” is successfully launched.

In the area of Indigenous Engagement and Reconciliation:

- Work with the entire UBC community and indigenous partners to implement the Indigenous Strategic Plan;
- Continue to foster strong relationships with Musqueam;
- Work with the Executive, Provosts, Deans and ISP Coordinating Committee to plan Indigenous faculty, staff and student recruitment; and
- Work with Professor Sheryl Lightfoot and the Deans to develop a synergistic partnership between the Faculties of Applied Science and Science with 3 First Nations.

For Climate Change:

- Continue to lead climate action in my second year as the President of the University Climate Change Coalition (UC3);
- Continue to lead as Chair of the Committee of Presidents of the U7+ Alliance of 45 universities to address pressing global challenges such as climate change; and
- Prepare to host the global Climate Change Summit at UBC in summer 2022.

For the COVID-19 response:

- Continue to lead UBC’s strategy to support a healthy and safe community during this year of Return to Campus, working with provincial leaders and health authorities;
- Support the implementation of a remote work program that fosters employee engagement, attraction and retention, and considerations around environmental impacts;
- Work with the Executive and others to enhance programming for students as they return to campus after 18 months away; and
- Evaluate and apply lessons learned from the pandemic into future planning to mitigate risk and leverage opportunities.

In the area of Operational Efficiency:

- Work with Executive and experts in institutional finance to establish a UBCV/O operating model that optimizes the distribution of resources across UBCV and UBCO;
- Focus on UBCV and UBCO budgets with a clear delineation of administrative structures and an alignment of budget frameworks between both campuses;
- Support the implementation of a Thrive-based platform for monitoring testing of unvaccinated individuals at UBC; and
- Provide clear and visible leadership in the refinement of Workday HR and Finance and the implementation of Student within the Integrated Renewal Program.

Finally, for the President’s Academic Excellence Initiative- the academic renewal project:

- Oversee the accelerate phase of the PAEI and support the development of the campaign-phase for both campuses;
- Engage with the Provosts and Deans to leverage PAEI to support the EDI priorities of the university; and
- Work with the Provosts, VP Research and Deans to support infrastructure investments to support new faculty members recruited by PAEI.

Dr Ono reminded Senators that the first National Day for Truth and Reconciliation was in eight days; UBC would be observing this day as a holiday on both campuses and classes would not be held. He noted that in a recent broadcast email he encouraged the UBC community to honour the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation, whether through personal reflection, education and awareness activities, or by participating in Orange Shirt Day or other events. Dr Ono said that he was pleased to note that many UBC faculties, schools and departments are commemorating the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation and Orange Shirt Day through various activities that reflect on the legacy of residential schools and colonialism. Dr Ono further commented that UBC's overall response to residential schools and colonialism is guided by the Indigenous Strategic Plan, which we launched just over a year ago. Dr Ono suggested that the challenge was now looking forward: We need to keep ourselves accountable and ensure this plan is enacted and embedded into the structures, processes, and daily life of the university.

Finally, the President noted the past Monday's federal election. He said that he was looking forward to working with the next parliament and government and re-engaging on some of UBC's top priorities, including post-secondary accessibility and affordability, strengthening our research and innovation ecosystem, advancing climate action, equity, diversity and inclusion, and reconciliation and Indigenous human rights; and, of course, working with all levels of government to build the SkyTrain extension to UBC. In closing, Dr Ono noted his concern at seeing long lines at polling stations on campus and in Election Canada's decision not to run the Vote on Campus program during this election. Dr Ono noted that the university is committed to continuing conversations with Elections Canada to ensure the program is reinstated for future elections.

Senator S. Singh noted the increase in mental health challenges on campus. He asked for the President to please update the Senate on what UBC was doing in this area, especially in light of COVID-19.

Dr Ono said this was an area where we have made a considerable investment already with new staff and we are looking at how can improve our responsiveness.

Dr Marshall commented on the Ubyyssey article apparently quoting the president on rapid testing being a mater of optics.

Dr Ono said that both he and Dr Choi were misquoted on twitter.

Senator Harrison said that the Vice-President students should be invited to update the senate on student mental health supports

From the Board of Governors

Dr Ono advised that set out on your agenda was confirmation from the Board of Governors of their concurrence to all of the matters forwarded to them from January to May.

In addition, Dr Ono noted that the Vancouver Senate passed a motion in August to make a recommendation to the Board to implement a vaccine mandate.

That recommendation read:

“That the Vancouver Senate urges the President and Board of Governors to require all students, staff, and faculty attending, supporting, or delivering in-person classes, tutorials, or laboratories to be fully vaccinated against the COVID-19 virus prior to doing so.”

Dr Ono noted that a similar motion was passed by the Okanagan Senate. The Board met yesterday and Board Chair Nancy McKenzie has asked him to convey the following message to the Senates:

“First, the Board appreciates the care and energy that the Senates have invested in considering this matter and producing recommendations for the Board’s consideration. These are challenging times and the health and safety of the UBC community is of paramount concern to all of us. We face difficult issues and the input and views of the Senates are important and deeply valued.

Having received the recommendations from the Senates, a significant amount of time was set aside on the Board agenda to ensure that they could be carefully considered.

The Board also invited public health experts, including Dr. David Patrick from UBC’s School of Population and Public Health and Dr. Daniel Coombs from UBC’s Department of Mathematics and a member of the BC-COVID Modeling Group, to share their expert advice on the measures that UBC should be taking to address public health and safety concerns arising from the pandemic. These experts, as well as medical health officers from Vancouver Coastal Health and Interior Health provided up-to-date, detailed data-driven presentations, including information about current vaccination rates.

The Board also obtained legal advice to ensure that it understood the legal framework within which these public health measures are being implemented.

Informed by these presentations and after deep and careful questioning from Governors, the Board believes that the most appropriate path at the current time is to require that all faculty members, staff members, and students be fully vaccinated or undergo regular COVID-19 testing.

In addition, mandatory masking and the use of the BC vaccine passport, as required by public health authorities, is required. Where necessary, appropriate accommodations will be made for those with particular concerns, such as disability, immunocompromised status, family/caregiving status, or religious beliefs.

Circumstances continue to evolve, especially as new variants arise. The Board will continue to keep a close eye on the impact of the pandemic and UBC’s response will continue to be updated and modified as changing circumstances warrant.

Finally, [the Board Chair is] committed to keeping the community informed on the implementation of the rapid testing program; for example, information on the frequency of testing, verification, and approaches to ensuring compliance.

[The Board Chair] would like to emphasize the Board’s appreciation for the Senate’s consideration of these matters and for reaching out to the Administration and the Board. The Board is interested in increased communication between the two Governance branches and the Executive to best serve the needs of UBC and has requested the Board Secretariat to work with the Senate Secretariat to explore how best to achieve that.”

Noting the discussion from the previous special meeting, Senator Pelech asked why we haven’t recognized prior COVID-19 infection as grounds for an exception.

The President said that he would share that with the team and the Provincial Health Office.

Senator Marshall said his past 1.5 weeks in the classroom is showing very high anxiety around both vaccinations, being in classrooms and UBC's planned testing regime.

Dr Ono said that testing in general was not adequate presently; we would be announcing a new site with higher capacity soon. With respect to the issue of theatres and classrooms having different rules, he noted that he could arrange for a conversation with medical health officials on why they felt there was a distinction.

Tributes Committee

Dr John Gilbert, Chair of the Senate Tributes Committee, presented.

Process for Revoking Honorary Degrees

Dr Ono noted the number of comments that the University had received on this matter and the importance of addressing concerns in a timely and fair manner.

Dr Gilbert introduced the topic and the seven questions that Senate was being asked to opine on this evening. Dr Gilbert advised that the Tributes Committee had issued a statement earlier this summer on the matter. He noted that after that discussion, he would move a motion regarding how to address honorary degrees this year. The seven questions before Senate were:

- 1) Does the Senate agree with the Tributes Committee that, in principle, honorary degrees may be revoked?
- 2) Under what criteria would the UBC revoke an honorary degree?
- 3) What information would be needed to consider revoking a degree and who, either within or beyond the University, should be involved in making such a decision?
- 4) What burden of proof, either for outside processes, or for processes within the University, should be required for UBC to revoke an honorary degree?
- 5) What procedural fairness considerations should be applied when considering revoking an honorary degree?
- 6) Would the procedural fairness considerations above necessitate someone being able to respond to allegations made against them?
- 7) What other actions, either in addition to, or instead of revoking an honorary degree should UBC consider when concerns are raised or substantiated regarding a past honoree?

Dr Gilbert asked for Chancellor Point to speak next, noting how helpful his advice was as a member of the Tributes Committee.

Chancellor Point said that as we were all aware now, 215 unmarked graves were confirmed on the grounds of Kamloops Indian Residential School, and similar confirmations were being made at other residential schools. This was a troubling issue for both indigenous peoples and Canada. Other first nations were waiting for Kamloops to finish their report on the matter out of respect for their process. The impact of this on residential school survivors and their family has been immense, and governments and other groups are turning to first nations to ask what to do. For him, the Chancellor said that if it was found that Bishop O'Grady was bishop or principal when these events occurred and played a direct or indirect role in the death of these children, we should undertake a process to reconsider the award, but he cautioned against reactionary judgment without investigation and forethought. In some cases, he noted the graves were not originally unmarked but markers were moved or lost over time, and what was being described here was an orderly plot of graves. The Chancellor said that there could be no doubt that residential schools were a horrible place for native children, where many were abused and had their culture denied.

With respect to the idea of reviewing all ~850 honorary degree recipients, the Chancellor opined that many humans had done horrible things to each other over history. Universities were supposed to be places that moved society forward. To go back and reconsider the worthiness of past rewards without information or evidence to do so would be, in his view, unnecessary. We granted honorary degrees with positive attention to reward things we felt benefit society at that time; we should allow things to stand as they are until a matter is brought to our attention. The Chancellor brought up the history of Judge Begbie or Prime Minister MacDonald and demands to remove statues of them and his preference that we add our understanding now to their plaques and statutes rather than remove them. By removing a monument, we remove the opportunity to understand that history fully. In closing, the Chancellor encouraged the University to not go hunting but rather to decide cases when brought before us, and to walk lightly with careful analysis.

Senator Yee thanked the Chancellor for his remarks. She noted if the Tributes Committee has considered the work of the review committee looking at the University's Naming Policy and in particular if its language on removing names could be applied in this instance. The current draft allowed groups to propose names to be removed if they harmed a welcoming environment at UBC, but still allowed things to be contextualized so that history was not lost. She said that she felt that UBC should review all of its past honorary degrees.

Senator Menzies said that it was clear that history had bad people and bad aspects. No one denies the harm that people have caused to each other, but rather than cancelling history, to continue to honour these people portrays a wrong version of history. To revoke their honorary degrees would be a correction. Senator Menzies said in this instance we have a duty to act more quickly than UBC normally does and by keeping these people honoured we do not honour our University, province, or country in the present.

Senator Burnham said she appreciated the framework in the document and the background provided. She said that she hoped this conversation can be extended beyond the Senate to seek answers from our community on moving this matter forward. Senator Burnham said that she supported the pause in honorary degrees this year so that we could focus on this matter. She said that we needed to resource the Committee properly so that it could make timely decisions on this matter.

The President said that if the Committee needed any resources they should contact him.

Senator Pretap-Singh said that of the questions brought forward, the most important was what should be the burden of proof. He suggested that the standard should be if, knowing what we know now, we would award them an honorary degree. He suggested that we needed to act quickly on the O'Grady matter before acting on any other names people may want to have reconsidered.

Senator Zerriffi said he agreed with the comments of Senator Menzies on a need to act. In almost all cases people in the past knew or should have known that these actions were bad, but often those who knew were not in power. He also suggested that we should question why we give honorary degrees at all and who we honour; he said that he hoped that this would cause us to question these honours more generally.

Senator Thorne said that members of the Tributes Committee were appalled by the findings at Kamloops Indian Residential School but were given consistent and wise advice to not act precipitously. Canada, BC, and UBC were complicit in the residential school system and we cannot locate all of our judgment in one individual to absolve the rest of guilty.

Senator Cooper thanked the previous speakers. He echoed earlier comments about wanting speed and to accord this case priority, and the benefit of broader consultation with the community as UBC did not exist in isolation. He noted that of the comparable policies provided in background, that of McGill seemed most helpful to him as it was broader in its application while other universities looked for criminal convictions.

Senator Krebs thanked the Tributes Committee for their work. She said that the values of UBC should transcend history. Our understanding of power and history has changed, and what was acceptable by law and by society in the past is no longer; we should not continue to honour things that transgress our values. Addressing this in a timely manner shows our values and we need to move forward with accountability and transparency.

Senator Gilbert thanked the senators for their comments on how to proceed. He suggested that focusing on the seven questions or suggesting new questions may be helpful. Dr Gilbert suggested that this must be a matter of education not execution; we cannot just strike people from our books and pretend it did not happen. This was a complicated matter, we needed to reach out to the community, we needed to help of indigenous people in this work, and this will be time consuming.

Dr Ono noted that UBC had an indigenous advisory committee that could be of assistance to the Committee in its work.

Senator Pelech said he appreciated the earlier comments, especially those of Chancellor Point. There could be no question of atrocities in the past and as a scholarly institution, it was our duty to understand the truth. In this instance, we do not yet know when these bodies were buried or if there was a connection with O’Grady’s tenure. Senator Pelech said that we honoured O’Grady in the past because we believed he wanted to do good and provide education to people. We should consider if the intent was good even if the outcome was evil. Finally, we should consider what we are doing today that our descendants may judge us for, for instance, how we treat our environment. We need to proceed with caution, truth, and clarity.

Senator J. G. Stewart thanked the prior speakers. He noted that his scholarly work was on atrocities and how to address them historically. He spoke to the notion that stripping historical figures of honorifics was a highly individualized form of redress that located blame in particular individuals and to instrumentalize that for philosophical, political, and moral transformation. There are benefits to that, but there is also a concern in that this unintentionally absolves other people are structures that facilitated violence in the past. To address this, we needed to memorialize the collective shame in residential schools. There are examples of this is Germany, Rwanda, and the United States.

The President asked the Senator to reach out to him to discuss these ideas further.

John Gilbert

John Gilbert	}	That the Senate not approve honorary degrees for
C.W. Marshall		the 2021-2022 Academic Year.

Reports from the Emeritus College

Senate received the annual report of the UBC Emeritus College for information. College Principal, Professor Emeritus of Geography Graeme Wynne was in attendance to address the report.

ROSS ON EMAIL APPROVAL

Dr Ross advised Senate that pursuant to Senate Rule 24, the following two proposals were both approved by email as of 16 August 2021:

Recommendation from the Academic Policy Committee Regarding 30 September 2021
(National Day for Truth and Reconciliation)

Recommendation from the Awards Committee Regarding the St. Pierre, Romilly,
Nathanson Entrance Award in Law for Black Students

Senator Harrison raised concerns with provincial government overstepping University Act in its communication with BC universities regarding the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation. He noted the merits of recognizing the day, but said that as it was not a provincial statutory holiday, it being imposed on universities was not respectful of their autonomy in academic matters, including scheduling.
