Remarks from the Chair

Dr Buszard opened her remarks by noting that she was honored to be joining for the first time as a member and chair of the UBC Vancouver Senate. She noted her experience with the Okanagan Senate and her fondness and support for collegial governance.

The Acting President noted that a few weeks ago, UBC celebrated the groundbreaking for the Student Recreation Centre North. When complete, the building will feature indoor floor area of 101,000 square feet spread over four levels, including three gymnasium courts; an indoor run, roll, walk track; cardio and weightlifting areas; multipurpose rooms; and universal and gender-specific change areas. This new facility is to add 41,500 square feet of fitness and activity space for the UBC community and was made possible through a generous donation of $22.5 million dollars from the Alma Mater Society.

Dr Buszard said that earlier this month saw the launch of FORWARD, the campaign for UBC. The campaign will raise $3 billion to benefit research, teaching and learning across both the Vancouver and Okanagan campuses in three key areas—advancing healthy lives, creating solutions for the planet, and shaping thriving societies.

In closing, the Acting President reminded senators that fall graduation ceremonies will take place November 23 to 25 and that UBC would be holding a special convocation ceremonies earlier in the month for our graduates who missed out on in-person ceremonies during the pandemic.

Senator Pratap-Singh noted the recent violence at the University Golf Club and asked if they administration could advise on the situation.

Vice-President Averill said that because the golf course was not a part of the University, they had no more information than the general public did from the police on the matter.

MASTER OF OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY DISTRIBUTED PROGRAM – FRASER VALLEY COHORT

Carol Jaeger
Susan Forwell

That Senate approve the Master of Occupational Therapy Distributed Program-Fraser Valley Cohort.

Senator Forwell noted a concern that the way in which the program was described could give the inaccurate impression that the distributed sites were different programs. She asked for this to be revised.

By general consent, the proposal was amended to strike the remainder of the paragraph following “sites” in the description of the distributed program and replace with the following:

“Students in the distributed program will be located at the University of Northern British Columbia site in Prince George and the University of British Columbia site in Surrey, BC.”

Senator Forwell noted that the wording of the proposal was further in error as no supplementary application would be needed for the Surrey site.

By general consent, the proposal was further amended to strike the proposal for the following language to be added “or the UBC Master of Occupational Therapy Program located at the University of British Columbia site in Surrey, ”

Senator Pelech asked for clarity on how the program was funded and how the eight non-domestic seats were funded in particular.
Senator Forwell noted that a few years back, the Faculty of Medicine, Senate and Board had decided to add eight non-government funded seats for international students beyond the 56 domestic enrolments funded by the Province.

FACULTY OF GRADUATE AND POSTDOCTORAL STUDIES – DOCTORAL DEGREES

Carol Jaeger
Susan Porter

That Senate approve the Calendar entry on Doctoral Degrees, effective for the 2022 Winter Session and thereafter.

In response to a question from Senator Bhangu, Senator Jaeger confirmed that this was a clarification of existing policy around students pursuing a second doctoral degree.

In response to a question from Senator Turdy, Senator Jaeger said that in such situations students would be considered on a case-by-case basis and the rationale provided some examples of what the University would consider acceptable.

DOCTOR OF MEDICINE – POST-ACCEPTANCE REQUIREMENTS

Carol Jaeger
Jorden Hendry

That Senate approve changes to post-acceptance requirements for students admitted to the Doctor of Medicine program, effective for entry to the 2022 Winter Session and thereafter.

Senator Pelech said that this regulation would allow the Public Health Office to mandate vaccination. He noted that there were already requirements for vaccinations for long-standing vaccines but this proposal seemed motivated by COVID-19 and he asserted that it has not been established yet that these vaccines reduced transmission or the severity of COVID-19. He noted the risks for vaccine injury, especially for males. He said that he had a problem with setting a precedent for a student being subjected to an experimental vaccine at the direction of public health officers and argued against the proposal.

Senator Kelleher, the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, replied that it was a long-standing practice to require medical students in be vaccinated. He said that this was a matter of public health and not an optional exercise: our students cannot study or practice unless they comply.

Senators Bhangu and Khosla agreed with Dean Kelleher.
Senator Pelech said that the public health office took advice from the faculty of Medicine and we shouldn’t just accept their recommendations without pushing back when warranted. He said we should consider future pandemics and vaccinations on a case-by-case basis.

Senate recognized Dr Cheryl Holmes from the faculty of Medicine. She said that this was a requirement of the Provincial Health Office to allow students access to health locations. Students either needed to be vaccinated or have proof of exemption. She said that we needed to give students fair notice of this requirement.

RENEWAL OF MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING: UBC FACULTY OF MEDICINE AND MAASTRICHT UNIVERSITY

Carol Jaeger
Susan Forwell

That Senate approve the renewal of the terms of the affiliation between the UBC Faculty of Medicine and Maastricht University, as set out in the “Memorandum of Understanding between the University of British Columbia Faculty of Medicine’s Centre for Health Education Scholarship (“UBC”) and Maastricht University Faculty of Health, Medicine and Life Sciences School of Health Professions Education (“UM”).

Senator von Bergmann noted that this was now a common practice in the United States.

RENEWAL OF AFFILIATION AGREEMENT: UBC AND SHANGHAI JIAO TONG UNIVERSITY (CHINA) RE. THE INTERNATIONAL MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM

That Senate approve the renewal of the terms of the affiliation between The University of British Columbia (Faculty of Commerce and Business Administration) and the Shanghai Jiao Tong University (Antai College of Economics and Management) for the delivery of the International Master of Business Administration program, as set out in the “First Restated and Amended Renewal of Cooperation Agreement for an IMBA Degree Program, between Shanghai Jiao Tong University, China and the University of British Columbia, Canada.”

Senator Cantiller asked how the agreement worked to date, and how does and would it benefit UBC given the changed political circumstances with China.

Senator Dahl said that this had been a successful program for many years with 19 completed cohorts and two in progress. He described the amended agreement as modest improvements to something that has worked well for 20 years.

Senator Kanji said that he supported this particular motion but asked if the Provost could update the Senate on the review of affiliations that that Senate had requested several years past, as noted at the prior meeting.

Senator Averill noted that the new Vice-Provost International had just returned from an overseas trip and would be working on this matter soon.

Senator von Bergmann asked if the “lockdown” in Shanghai had affected the students or program.

Senator Dahl said that since the onset of the pandemic the program has moved entirely online and would remain so for the next program. The program content is 100% created by Sauder faculty.
Senator Turdy renewed her concerns with UBC entering into agreements with countries who have human rights violations. She said that we needed to create proper guidelines for such relationships.

Susan Porter

That the new courses, revised program and deletion of options brought forward by Extended Learning and the Faculties of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies (Forestry and Medicine) and Medicine be approved.

Dr Krebs briefly described the proposed curriculum changes.

Teaching and Learning Committee

The Chair of the Senate Teaching and Learning Committee, Dr Joanne Fox, presented.
Dr Fox noted that starting in May 2020, both the Okanagan and Vancouver Senates had heard reports from working groups on student evaluations of teaching, now renamed student experience of instruction. Most recently, recommendations were brought to Senate in May 2021. The report presented was on their implementation.

Senate welcomed Drs Simon Bates and Abdel Azim Zumrawi to present.

Dr Bates noted that the full report distributed was quite lengthy and comprehensive; a lot of work had been done on the 16 recommendations. He noted that in 2022 we looked at data from 2021 Winter to test the new UMI and analyze for bias. Overall, the new questions were forming well. Dr Bates noted that we could not complete all planned analyses for bias due to low participation to date in the employment equity survey.

Dr Bates noted the increased work in analyzing text comments and using systems to do so; however, none were considered ready for wide implementation at this time.

Dr Zerriffi said that the evidence around bias remains inconclusive and inconsistent at best, and is an area for concern. He said that this mattered very much for individual faculty members and that if it was the department heads responsibility to address that, he asked what training would be given to department heads to address individual cases of bias as show in both numbers and in textual comments. He said that we needed student input into teaching, but he was not convinced that these kinds of surveys were the best way to do so. He opined that we seemed to be fiddling on the margins of a wrong system.

Dr Fox said that the two committees had struck working groups to consider how to integrate various forms of teaching evaluation.

Dr Bates said that we needed to interrogate our own data around bias. He agreed that aggregate statistics can cause us to lose individual lived experiences. We have yet to address what happens when we get different signals from different types of data, e.g., students vs peers. We needed to sort out a procedure for integration.

Senator Pelech said he welcomed a careful analysis of bias. He said that he wasn’t surprised by the lack of data showing bias so far, but was curious about the slight tendency for female students to give slightly higher scores than males. Noting that UBC was around 56% female, he asked if there was a relationship in scores between the gender or students and the gender of instructors.

Dr Bates said that these were large data sets and even statistically significant differences could be practically meaningless.
The Senate welcomed Dr Abdel Azim Zumrawi who said that in 2015 we looked at this, and noted that female students tended to rate female instructors higher while for male students were was no noticeable difference.

Senator von Bergmann noted the low rates of response in her faculty of Dentistry to these surveys. She asked how we could encourage greater participation and have deeper discussions in faculty and amongst students.

Dr Bates agreed that response rates were a challenge. In a few meetings we will be presenting an annual report that outlines this challenge. Low response rates undermines the ability to draw any judgments. We will be discussing practical approaching to increasing response rates with the relevant committees.

Senator Krebs asked if we had more granular data on gender bias for faculties. She noted that in some disciplines, female voices were perceived as less competent that male.

Dr Zumrawi said that we did some data that showed little variation across disciplines in the case of UBC.

Reports from the Provost

The Acting Provost, Professor Moura Quayle presented.

Gage Averill
Joanne Fox

By general consent, the agenda was amended to immediately consider Other Business.

Other Business

DR KATE ROSS

Dr Fox noted that this would be Dr Kate Ross’ final meeting as University Registrar.
She noted that Dr Ross was widely known and well-regarded within the Canadian higher education community for her commitment to serving students, supporting and mentoring colleagues; and her significant contributions to the advancement of the Canadian registrarial profession over her 35+ year career.

Dr Fox noted that Dr Ross had worked to better access to students who are under-represented in post-secondary institutions. She guides institutions to focus on advancing student access. She led UBC’s efforts to implement the Youth in Care tuition waiver for eligible students who are currently, or have, lived as youth in care. This led the province of BC to follow suit with a tuition waiver program for all BC institutions shortly thereafter. Dr Ross was a member of the Aunt Leah’s Place Supporting Education for Foster Youth (SEFFY) Advisory Committee, a program that supports long-term education planning for foster youth and former foster youth in care. Likewise, she remains an outspoken Leadership Donor and champion for UBC’s United Way Community Campaign that supports the Youth Futures Education Fund – supporting low barrier access to funds that support living expenses to youth who have aged out of the foster care system.

Dr Fox further noted that Dr Ross had received awards in recognition of her support of students, and for Leadership.. UBC has recognized Kate with a nomination (2017) for the YWCA Women of Distinction Award. More recently, and she had been recognized externally by the 2022 ARUCC Outstanding Achievement and Honorary Associate awards by the Association of Registrars at the Universities and Colleges of Canada (ARUCC). The outstanding achievement award recognized Dr Ross’ work in service of the Canadian higher education community for her commitment to serving students, supporting and mentoring colleagues, and her significant contributions to the advancement of the Canadian registrarial profession over her career. These awards recognize her contributions across the sector, but we have seen her incredible impacts at UBC.

     Dr Buszard expressed her own thanks to Dr Ross for her work, especially on behalf of the Okanagan campus and Senate.

     Dr Ross said that it was an honour to serve Senate and work with senators and the Senate’s staff.
