Re: Revocation of Offers of Admission (information)

At its March 26 meeting, the Senate Admissions Committee met with delegates of the Provost's Office to discuss the revocation of offers of admission made to applicants to undergraduate programs at the University. Current practice is that offers of admission are not rescinded unless the applicant's overall admission average falls below the published University minimum average for admission eligibility. Following extensive discussion, the Senate Admissions Committee supports the continuation of the current practice for the 2008 admission cycle; that offers of admission made to applicants to undergraduate programs* who meet the published University minimum, meet program requirements (including provincial exams) and have graduated from high school normally be considered final offers that will not be revoked.

The Senate Admissions Subcommittee on the Review of UBC Undergraduate Admission Policies will consider the issue of revocation of offers in a broader context and make recommendations to the Senate Admissions Committee for the 2009 admission cycle.

Respectfully submitted,

Dr. James Berger, Chair
Senate Admissions Committee

* For the purposes of the revocation of offers of admission, undergraduate programs do not include those that formally require post-secondary study prior to admission. Examples include but are not limited to the Doctor of Dental Medicine (DMD), Doctor of Medicine (MD), Bachelor of Laws (LLB/JD) and the Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) programs.
